Markt Garmisch-Partenkirchen

A stroll through streets like Frühlingsstraße in Garmisch or the Historical Ludwigstraße in Partenkirchen makes tradition come alive. The so-called Lüftlmalereien, magnificent facade paintings, tell you stories about the houses' inhabitants, the region and its customs, so that even non-German speaking visitors understand - without explanation of a guide. The locals greet guests with openness, lust for life and their Bavarian charm.

Historic Partenkirchen

Walking through the Historic Centre of Partenkirchen, each step leads you further into long ago times. Follow the tracks of the fresco painter Heinrich Bickel who decorated the „Fraundorfer" Inn at Ludwigstraße with a gorgeous typical country wedding. Nearby, you will also find the local Werdenfels Museum. Miraculously, the former merchant's building was not impaired by the Big Blaze of 1865. Nowadays, history and ancient customs of the Werdenfels Region are exhibited in the five-storyed house.

Traditional "Hornschlittenrennen"

Every year, at Epiphany (6th of January), Garmisch-Partenkirchen turns upside down. On this day, fearless women and men meet for the Bavarian "Hornschlitten" competition. This has become a tradition for more than 40 years now. The courageous pilots speed down the slope with more than 100 km per hour. Four persons sit on one wooden sledge. Daring manoeuvres and accidents are all a part of the game. They are all fighting to become the Bavarian Hornschlitten Champion.

Cross your fingers for the athletes when they speed down to the valley. The run is a classic one: The 1.2 km "High Path" (Hoher Weg) leads from the Alpine hut Partnachalm right down to the doorsteps of the clubhouse of the Partenkirchen Hornschlitten.

Did you know: The name “Hornschlitten” comes from the form of the runners? The sledge, the lengths of which are two to three metres, used to be the peasants' equipment for transporting hay from secluded Alpine meadows into the valley for transporting wood to the farm. Many of the sledges participating in the race are original sledges that often are more than 60 years old.

Every 6th of January, the race starts at the Alpine hut Partnachalm. Thanks to the combination of an exciting race for seconds and wintry fun on the slopes, the Bavarian Hornschlitten Race Championship is a real experience. Do not miss it!

ART & CULTURE

Markt Garmisch-Partenkirchen

Garmisch-Partenkirchen is a well-known place in Bavaria. And what is Bavaria famous for?
Yes, for its traditions, culture, lifestyle - and its excellent beer of course.
It would take days to tell about all traditions, you have to experience that on your own. Seeing the girls wearing "Dirndl" and the boys wearing "Lederhosn" is an unique experience.

Kleines Theater

Fritz Rohrbeck, director and founder of the Kleines Theater (English: Little Theater), felt drawn to the stage ever since he was a boy. After discovering the town of Garmisch-Partenkirchen he decided to start a theatre here, and thus the “Little Theatre” was born. The theatre is now in its 3rd generation; its productions regularly delight audiences with their care and attention to detail.
